The children have also begun tracing their names. If you would like to practice tracing your child's name with him or her at home, please let me know and I will print some pages for you. I will also be posting the tracer pages on the Parent Bulletin area of the website.

Once the children are comfortable with tracing their names, they will begin to practice writing their name on their own. The kids are SO very proud of the work they have done here (they can't wait to show mom and dad!) and they LOVE praise - so be sure to compliment them on their work any chance you get! ☺
